Significant Accounting Policies

These unaudited results have been compiled in line with the requirements of International Financial Reporting Standards, the accounting policies having been applied consistently when compared to the audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2022

Review of the Performance of the Company

The Directors wish to present the following unaudited results for year ending 31 December 2023.

Economic outlook

After increasing the benchmark policy rate from 29.5%pa to 30%pa during the July Monetary Policy meeting, The Bank of Ghana ("BoG") left the rate unchanged during its November 2023 meeting. The decision was made in anticipation of inflation continuing its downward trend, given the likelihood of food price stability.

Ghana's annual inflation rate eased for the fifth consecutive month to 23.2%pa in December, compared to 43.1%pa in July. It was the lowest reading since March 2022 but still well above the BoG target band of 8-10%pa. Prices slowed for both food (28.7% vs 55%pa in July) and non-food items (18.7% vs 38.80%pa in July).

The International Monetary Fund ("IMF") executive board approved a USD 600million disbursement to Ghana. This is the second tranche under the approved USD 3billion extended credit facility. The Cedi has returned to relative stability, trading around USD/GHS =12.00

Financial Performance

The Izwe Savings and Loans' ("Izwe") balance sheet expanded by 32% year-on-year, with Net Loans and Advances to customers increasing to GHS380m from GHS288m. This is due to an increase in sales as Ghana achieves macroeconomic stability. The improved stability has positively impacted liquidity in the financial sector. Given the improved economic environment during the second half of last year, the balance sheet is expected to expand further in 2024.

Efficient liquidity management remains a key focus point of the organisation's success. Deposits experienced significant growth and are maintained at a stable level. The additional liquidity was utilized to grow assets and bolster the overall strength of the balance sheet.

The company reported a 27%pa decline in net interest income due to constrained sales in H1 2023, with an increase of 5.2%pa in net operating income due to improvements in credit loss expense and a reduction of fees and commission expenses. The overall provision methodology, however, remains prudent, with the provision balance considered adequate to cover the inherent credit risk. Izwe anticipates robust performance in 2024 with the expected improvement of the macroeconomic environment.

The year-on-year growth in advances resulted in improved interest income. Similarly, interest expense also increased due to interest accrued and paid on liabilities raised.

Operating cost grew by 10%pa to GHS55m (2022: GHS50m), due to costs associated with asset formulation and the raising of new retail deposit activities.

Izwe remains a solvent, liquid, and well-capitalized institution with a Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) of 11.13% in December 2023 (December 2022: 13.79%). The CAR is above the regulatory minimum of 10%, positioning the entity to meet growth prospects over the coming years. No statutory liquidity reserves breaches were recorded. Net profit after tax of GHS 277K was reported for the year under review, with Izwe being confident that 2024 will report improved profitability.

Business Outlook

Izwe is meticulously progressing in its strategic direction. The organisation continuously enhances operations through technology-enabling platforms, investment in its people, upholding strong corporate governance and structure and a focus on client engagement and relationships. This comprehensive approach is anticipated to have a positive impact on the cost of operations, client engagement and overall profitability.
