CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT TO SHAREHOLDERS OF DATABANK ARK FUND LIMITED

Dear Valued Shareholders,

It is with immeasurable pleasure that I welcome you all to the 11th Annual General Meeting (AGM) of Databank Ark Fund Limited (ArkFund). On behalf of the board, the management and the staff of Databank, I applaud you for your continuous support of the Fund over the years and for your confidence in our ability to empower you to attain financial independence. I also warmly welcome our new shareholders who joined the Fund in 2020. I will begin with a synopsis of the economy within which the Fund operated in the prior year and proceed with a detailed account of the performance of your Fund in 2020. Thereafter, I will conclude with our expectations for 2021.

Global economic review

The global economy is estimated by the IMF to have contracted by 3.3% in 2020, mainly driven by pandemic-induced disruptions to global economic and investment activities. GDP growth in almost all emerging economies was negative, apart from China. Sub-Saharan Africa witnessed a 1.9% contraction in GDP in 2020, down from a growth of 3.2% in 2019. This was mainly attributable to the slump in key economies like Nigeria and South Africa, which shrank by 1.8% and 7.0%, respectively.

The global response to the pandemic was swift and decisive in many countries, albeit with relatively limited degrees in Emerging Markets and Developing Economies (EMDEs) due to an already weak fiscal foundation. In addition to fiscal stimuli, Central Banks in many economies employed quantitative easing tools to boost liquidity in the financial markets. These interventions helped to stabilize financial markets during the initial stages of the crisis and greatly increased liquidity in the global economy. However, the interventions were implemented at a steep fiscal cost, leading to an uptick in global public debt with the potential for higher future taxes for debt servicing.

Review of Ghana's economy

In 2020, the Ghanaian economy suffered from the unanticipated shocks of the COVID-19 pandemic. As a result, public finances were significantly strained while growth momentum decelerated sharply. Ghana's real GDP growth plunged to 0.4% in 2020, compared to 6.5% in 2019. This was helped by a robust growth of 6.8% in the first quarter of 2020 to mitigate the COVID-induced contractions in the second and third quarters of the year. The key sub-sectors that contracted include mining & quarrying (including oil & gas), trade and hospitality. The Agriculture sector, aided by a strong performance in crops, showed resilience throughout 2020 while the industrial sector was the hardest hit with sharp contractions in the extractive sectors. Growth in the financial services sector was encouraging at 5.5%, reflecting the benefit of the financial sector reforms between 2017 and 2019.

Exchange rate developments

In 2020, the Ghana Cedi performed fairly well against the backdrop of the COVID pandemic. The local currency recorded a modest depreciation of 3.93% against the USD, compared to 12.9% depreciation in 2019. This comparatively better performance in 2020 was aided by a decrease in imports due to the slowdown in economic activity, which eased the demand for dollars and helped to ensure a relatively stable Ghana Cedi. In addition to this, the US$3 billion Eurobond issuance and the US$1 billion Rapid Credit Facility from the IMF strengthened the Bank of Ghana market interventions to support the Cedi. As a result of these dollar-denominated inflows, Ghana's gross forex reserves was enough to cover 4.1 months of import in 2020 compared to 4.0 months in 2019. The strong forex exchange position reassured investors on the domestic market and strengthened confidence in the Ghana Cedi.

Inflation

Headline inflation rose sharply from 7.9% in December 2019 to 11.4% in July 2020 on account of the panic buying episodes ahead of the April 2020 lockdown, which mainly impacted food prices. However, the gradual lifting of restrictions resulted in an improvement in domestic supply chains and a moderation of demand pressures, bringing headline inflation down to 10.4% by the end of 2020.

Capital market performance

The Ghana Stock Exchange Composite Index (GSE-CI) recorded a loss of 13.98% in 2020, following the 12.25% loss in 2019. The losses reflected the tough operating environment for listed companies, which was worsened by the COVID-19 containment measures. The banking sector was expected to record high impairments and non-performing loan ratios due to the impact of COVID-19 on businesses. However, policy interventions by the Central Bank and the restructuring of loans led to a much better bottom line performance, enabling most listed banks to declare dividends in 2020.

On the fixed-income market, yields broadly declined across the Treasury yield curve as the increased supply of funds exceeded demand. Short-term interest rates recorded marginal declines in 2020 compared to 2019. The 91-day, 182-day and 364-day bills lost an average of 51bps, 80bps and 76bps to end at average yields of 14.19%, 14.37% and 17.14%, respectively. The average yields on the 3-Year and 10-Year bonds trimmed by 45 and 77 basis points, respectively, to 19.25% and 21.00%.

ArkFund Performance

ArkFund closed the year at a price of GHC 0.6392, translating to a full-year return of 6.14%. This reflects an improved performance relative to the full-year return of 5.48% posted in 2019. Despite the improved performance, Assets Under Management for ArkFund slipped by 13% and ended the year at GHC 19.07M, largely on account of heightened outflows within the year. That notwithstanding, the Fund's shareholder base increased by 8% from 16,706 to 18,003.

Outlook of Ghana's economy

Global GDP is projected to expand by 6.0% in 2021 according to the IMF, predicated on proper pandemic management and effective vaccination. The expected recovery also depends on continued monetary policy support amidst a prudent fiscal regime. However, the recovery could suffer a relapse in the event of continued rise in infections with bottlenecks in the vaccine roll-out. Aggregate GDP in Emerging Markets and Developing Economies (EMDEs), including China, is expected to grow by 6.7% in 2021 while growth for Sub-Saharan Africa has been forecast at 3.4%. The IMF projects a 4.6% expansion in Ghana's real GDP in 2021 to kick-start the post-pandemic recovery.

On the fiscal front, the government of Ghana is seeking to bolster its revenue position by introducing some levies and increasing existing levies. The revenue measures are expected to generate a revenue-to-GDP ratio of 16.7% in 2021 compared to 14.3% in 2020. On the other hand, expenditure is projected to hit 26.2% of GDP in 2021 compared to 26.1% in 2020. As a result, the fiscal deficit is expected to narrow to 9.5% of GDP and, over the medium-term, to 4.5% GDP in 2024.

The IMF forecasts a decline in inflation to 8.7% by the end of 2021 on the back of easing food price pressures, stable exchange rate and narrowing output gaps. Expected uptick in ex-pump prices as a result of the new levies and higher world market prices could exert an upward pressure on inflation in 2021. The Ghana Cedi is expected to remain stable in 2021, anchored by a robust gross forex reserve above 4.0 months of import cover.

Nonetheless, the possible rise in the import bill, on the back of increased trade and economic activity, as well as sudden foreign capital outflows as a result of sustained negative emerging market sentiments pose an upside risk to the exchange rate.

Yields on Government of Ghana securities across the curve are expected to continue their moderate decline on the back of improving offshore investor risk appetite and the government's quest to reduce the interest cost of the public debt stock.

Outlook of Ghana's economy

Distinguished ladies and gentlemen, on behalf of my colleague Board members, I wish to thank you once again for investing in ArkFund. We have kept to our solemn responsibility to manage your funds professionally and we are truly grateful that you have also kept faith with us all these years. I am happy to announce that so far this year, the Ghanaian equity market has posted a strong recovery signaling that ArkFund is poised to churn decent returns in 2021.

I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to the Fund Manager and staff of Databank who have worked assiduously to make ArkFund such an attractive investment choice. I celebrate each and every one of you.

Thank you and I look forward to another year of great success.

Understanding how a conservative balanced fund can help you reach your investment goals

Investors often think they need to choose between an equity and a fixed income fund if they want to invest in a mutual fund. But what if both fixed income and equity appealed to you or you wanted to reap their combined benefits? Instead of investing in two separate mutual funds, you can invest in what is called a balanced fund.

Balanced mutual funds explained

A balanced mutual fund is a fund that invests in different asset classes, usually fixed income and equity, in specific ratios. Two common types are the Aggressive and the Conservative balanced funds.

An aggressive balanced fund has a higher ratio of equity while a conservative balanced fund, like ArkFund, invests in more fixed income instruments. For investors seeking the kind of long-term growth that equity gives, but who cannot endure its high risk characterized by high volatility, a conservative balanced fund with more fixed income is ideal.

What a conservative balanced mutual fund offers you

1 DIVERSIFICATION of investment

Unlike equity or fixed income funds that invest predominantly in only one asset class, balanced funds diversify your investments in both asset classes. In a year where the stock market does not perform well, the fixed income holdings could compensate for poor returns, and vice versa.

2 A good BALANCE between growth and stability

Equity is known for its potential for high long-term returns and its volatile nature. Fixed income, on the other hand, often gives stable returns. A balanced mutual fund, therefore will help you enjoy both the long-term growth (of equity) and stability (of fixed income) in one portfolio.

REDUCED RISK

Fixed income instruments (bonds, bills, money market instruments) are considered less risky instruments due to the stability of the returns. Having more of these in your portfolio means you will not experience a lot of volatility but will still get to grow your money in a sustainable way over the long term.

The ArkFund Advantage

ArkFund is a balanced mutual fund from Databank, and seeks to invest 70% of the assets in fixed income and 30% in equity. Due to its conservative nature, it has provided investors with an annual average return of 18% over the 11 years of its existence. Here are some other reasons investors are choosing ArkFund:

- ArkFund offers sustainable long-term growth for investors with a medium (or high) risk appetite.
- ArkFund is an ideal investment choice for medium to long-term investment goals (i.e., 5 years or more).
- ArkFund is backed by the proven track record of Databank's over 30 years' investment expertise.

Invest in ArkFund today and begin your journey to long-term sustainable growth of your money.

It is their responsibility to ensure that the Annual Financial Statements fairly present the state of affairs of the Fund as at the end of the financial year and the results of its operations and cash flows for the period then ended, in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards. While operating risk cannot be fully eliminated, the Fund endeavours to minimise it by ensuring that appropriate infrastructure, controls, systems and ethical behavior are applied and managed within predetermined procedures and constraints.

The Directors are of the opinion that, based on the information and explanations given by management, the system of internal control provides reasonable assurance that the financial records may be relied on for the preparation of the Annual Financial Statements. However, any system of internal financial control can provide only reasonable, and not absolute, assurance against material misstatement or loss.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF DATABANK ARK FUND LIMITED

We have audited the Financial Statements of Databank Ark Fund Limited, which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2020 and the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the Financial Statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies as set out on pages 24 to 33.

In our opinion, the accompanying Financial Statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund as at December 31, 2020 and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and comply with the Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992), the Securities Industry Act, 2016 (Act 929), and the Unit Trusts and Mutual Funds Regulations, 2001 (L.I. 1695).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards - the Code) issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA) and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key Audit Matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. They are matters to be addressed in the context of our audit of the Financial Statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on those matters.

Impairment Provision

Gross Investment in fixed income securities was GHC 11,867,760 (2019: GHC 13,924,934) as at December 31, 2020 with total general impairment provision of GHC 38,320 (2019: GHC 35,320).

The measurement of impairment provision is deemed a Key Audit Matter as the determination of assumptions for expected losses is subjective due to the level of judgement applied by the Directors.

The most significant judgements are:

- assumptions used in the expected loss models to assess the risk related to the exposure and the expected returns from the issuer,

- timely identification of exposures with significant increase in risk, and
- valuation of collateral and assumptions of future cash flows on manually assessed investment-impaired exposures.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

- We updated our understanding and tested the operating effectiveness of management controls over investment, maturity of investment and interest receivable;
- We evaluated the appropriateness of the accounting policies based on the requirements of IFRS 9 and industry practice;
- We evaluated the adequacy of the disclosures made in the Financial Statements to ensure that transition adjustments were accurate and complete;
- We performed substantive testing to obtain evidence of timely identification of exposures with significant increase in risk and timely identification of investment impaired exposures;
- We conducted substantive testing to support appropriate determination of assumptions for impairment provision and future cash flows on manually assessed investment impaired exposures.

Other Information

The Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises Chairman's Statement to Shareholders and Performance Summary but does not include the Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work that we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, then we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors for the Financial Statements

The Directors are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these Financial Statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of Financial Statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Financial Statements, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Directors are responsible for overseeing the Fund's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the planning and performance of the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
 - Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the fund's internal control.
 - Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
 - Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.
- We are required to communicate with the Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

The Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992) requires that in carrying out our audit work, we consider and report on the following matters.

We confirm that

- we have obtained all the information and explanations, which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of the audit;
- in our opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Fund, so far as appears from the examination of those books;
- the Fund's Financial Statements are in agreement with the books of account.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is SAMUEL ABIAW (ICAG/P/1454)

Dividend expense relating to equity securities sold short is recognised when the right of the shareholders to receive the payment is established.
