The standards include the proper delegation of responsibilities within a clearly defined framework, effective accounting procedures and adequate segregation of duties to ensure an acceptable level of risk. These controls are monitored throughout the company and all employees are required to maintain the highest ethical standards in ensuring the Fund's business is conducted in a manner that in all reasonable circumstances is above reproach. The focus of risk management is on identifying, assessing, managing and monitoring all known forms of risk across the Fund. While operating risk cannot be fully eliminated, the Fund endeavours to minimise it by ensuring that appropriate infrastructure, controls, systems and ethical behavior are applied and managed within predetermined procedures and constraints.

The Directors are of the opinion that, based on the information and explanations given by management, the system of internal control provides reasonable assurance that the financial records may be relied on for the preparation of the annual financial statements. However, any system of internal financial control can provide only reasonable, and not absolute, assurance against material misstatement or loss.

The Directors are satisfied that the Fund has access to adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future.

INTRODUCTION

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the Board of Directors and EDC Investments Ltd, I welcome you to the 16th Annual General Meeting of the EDC Ghana Balanced Fund PLC. It is a pleasure to share with you the performance of your Fund and key developments in the global and domestic economic environment during the year under review. I would like to express our appreciation for your trust and support throughout 2024, a year shaped by cautious optimism and strategic recalibration across financial markets.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC REVIEW

The global economy recorded a modest recovery in 2024, with an estimated growth of 3.2%, mirroring 2023's expansion. This was buoyed by resilient consumer spending in the U.S., ongoing fiscal support in emerging economies, and steady disinflation in advanced economies. The policy-easing cycle initiated by major central banks in Advanced Economies (AEs), in response to declining inflation rates, has generally supported growth. However, challenges such as elevated geopolitical tensions, the persistence of global interest rate uncertainty, and commodity price volatility continued to weigh on market sentiment.

In Sub-Saharan Africa, GDP growth rebounded modestly to around 4.0%, driven by easing inflation, improved trade balances, and relative exchange rate stability. Despite fiscal constraints and external debt vulnerabilities in several countries, investor confidence remained cautiously constructive. particularly in commodity-exporting economies.

DOMESTIC ECONOMIC REVIEW

CHAIRMAN'S

RICHARD ADU-POKU

REPORT

Ghana's economic growth continued its rebound in 2024, exceeding initial expectations. According to provisional data from the Ghana Statistical Service (GSS), real GDP grew by 5.7%, surpassing the programmed target of 4.0% and significantly higher than the 3.1% recorded in 2023. Non-oil GDP growth was even stronger, reaching 6.0%, compared to 3.6% in 2023. This robust performance was driven primarily by the industry and services sectors, which saw notable expansions in areas such as manufacturing, construction, and information and communication services. However, growth in the agricultural sector slowed, largely due to adverse weather conditions that negatively impacted crop yields. Despite this, agriculture still contributed meaningfully to the overall economy.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

In 2024, Ghana's banking sector continued its recovery from the impact of the Domestic Debt Exchange Programme (DDEP), with a generally robust balance sheet supported by strong growth in total deposits, borrowings, and shareholders' funds. Although profitability growth moderated due to a slowdown in major income streams, the sector remained profitable, recording higher profit-before-tax and profit-after-tax compared to 2023. Financial Soundness Indicators (FSIs) showed broad improvements, with stronger solvency, liquidity, and efficiency metrics by December 2024, reflecting the sector's resilience and ongoing stabilization.

The Ghana cedi continued to depreciate, weakening by 19.2% against the US dollar, 17.8% against the British pound, and 13.7% against the euro on a year-to-date basis in the interbank market. Although the depreciation remained significant, it was less severe than in 2023, when the cedi fell by 27.8%, 31.9%, and 30.3% against the dollar, pound, and euro, respectively. This moderation was underpinned by improved foreign exchange inflows, disbursements from the IMF, and tight monetary policy.

Ghana's inflation rate closed the year at 23.8% in December 2024, slightly above the 23.2% recorded at the end of 2023. Despite the Central Bank's continued tightening, inflationary pressures remained elevated, driven by unfavorable base effects and local currency weakness. The headline figure overshot the Bank of Ghana's end-year target of $15\% \pm 2\%$, highlighting persistent price rigidity. Nonetheless, the 12-month average inflation eased to 22.9%, nearly halving the 2023 average of 40.3%, signaling progress in stabilizing price growth over the medium term.

INTEREST RATES:

Interest rates broadly showed downward trends at the short end of the money market on a year-on-year basis. The 91-day and 182-day Treasury bill rates declined to 28.04 percent and 28.68 percent, respectively, in December 2024, compared to 29.24 percent and 31.88 percent in December 2023. Similarly, the rate on the 364-day instrument fell to 30.07 percent from 32.49 percent over the same period.

EQUITY MARKET IN 2024:

The Ghana Stock Exchange Composite Index (GSE-CI) posted a strong performance in 2024, closing at 4,888.53 points in December, up from 3,130.24 points a year earlier. This represents a year-on-year gain of 56.2%, a significant improvement over the 28.1% growth recorded in 2023. The robust performance was driven by a recovery in the profitability of listed financial institutions, improved market liquidity, and limited domestic investment alternatives following the Domestic Debt Exchange Programme (DDEP). Improved investor sentiment and renewed interest in equities further underpinned the rally.

The GSE's market capitalization rose to GH¢111.36 billion in December 2024, marking a 50.7% increase year-on-year, significantly higher than the 14.6% growth recorded in 2023.

FUND PERFORMANCE:

In full-year 2024, the EDC Ghana Balanced Fund delivered a strong return of 23.59%, reflecting effective portfolio positioning amid evolving market conditions. Performance was largely driven by exposure to select counters on the Ghana Stock Exchange, capitalizing on the broad equity market rally and improved investor sentiment. Additionally, the Fund made its first foray into hard currency assets, aiming to enhance diversification and capture gains from more stable external markets. This increased exposure also served as a hedge against local currency volatility, contributing positively to overall returns.

The number of active clients on record for the Fund stood at 10,381, a slight decline from 10,402 recorded in 2023. Notwithstanding this slight dip, assets under management grew to GHS 138 million, representing a 34 percent year-on-year increase from GHS 103 million in 2023.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The global economy is projected to expand by 2.8% in 2025, a downward revision from earlier forecasts. This moderation reflects the impact of rising trade tensions, tighter financial conditions, and ongoing policy uncertainty. While inflation is expected to continue declining, the pace of disinflation has slowed, with headline inflation remaining elevated in some regions. The outlook remains clouded by downside risks, including geopolitical instability and potential disruptions to global supply chains. Against this backdrop, financial markets are likely to remain volatile, underscoring the need for a cautious, diversified, and flexible investment approach in navigating the year ahead.

Ghana's economy is projected to grow by 4.0% in 2025, slightly below the government's target of 4.4%, according to the IMF's April 2025 update. The outlook reflects continued recovery in the industrial and services sectors, supported by fiscal consolidation under the IMF programme and improving investor confidence. Inflation is expected to moderate further, driven by tight monetary policy, enhanced food supply and a relatively stronger cedi.

As of June 2025, the cedi had appreciated significantly—by 30% against the US dollar—reflecting improved macroeconomic fundamentals and strong external support. While this development reinforces confidence in the domestic economy, it also introduces a recalibration in portfolio strategy, particularly with regard to hard currency exposures. In response, the Fund will continue to pursue a diversified and flexible approach, aligning with shifting currency dynamics while safeguarding long-term value for investors.

CONCLUSION:

As we reflect on 2024, the Fund demonstrated resilience and agility in navigating a complex macroeconomic environment. Despite global and domestic uncertainties, we delivered strong returns, expanded our asset base, and remained committed to long-term value creation.

Looking ahead to 2025, we remain cautiously optimistic. With disciplined investment execution and strategic portfolio positioning, we are well-placed to capture emerging opportunities and safeguard shareholder value. On behalf of the Board and Management, I sincerely thank our shareholders for your continued trust and support. Together, we will continue to build a stronger, more resilient Fund focused on sustainable growth.

Q&Awith your Portfolio Manager

An update from the EDC Ghana Balanced Fund Portfolio Manager

OVERVIEW

In 2024, Ghana's economy outperformed expectations, with real GDP growth reaching 5.7%, above the projected 4.0% and stronger than the 3.1% recorded in 2023. Non-oil sectors, particularly manufacturing, construction, and information and communication services, drove much of this momentum. At the same time, inflationary pressures began to ease, with average inflation nearly halving compared to the previous year, even though year-end inflation remained elevated at 23.8%.

The Ghana cedi, while still under pressure, depreciated at a slower pace than in 2023—losing 19.2% against the US dollar. This relative moderation, supported by IMF inflows and tight monetary policy and helped stabilize expectations. The banking sector also showed resilience, with stronger solvency, liquidity, and profitability metrics by year-end.

These macroeconomic shifts had a direct impact on portfolio strategy. In the following Q&A, we address how these dynamics shaped our investment approach, the key repositioning decisions we made, and our outlook for the year ahead.

- Q1: How did the macroeconomic environment in 2024 influence the Fund's investment strategy?
- A: The 2024 macro backdrop presented a nuanced picture. On one hand, GDP growth accelerated to 5.7%, driven by industry and services—and inflation showed clear signs of easing, supported by a slower pace of cedi depreciation. On the other hand, domestic yields remained elevated and policy uncertainty persisted, which limited attractive new opportunities at home.

PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S REPORT

In light of this, we pursued a two-pronged approach:

1. External Diversification:

- U.S. Treasuries: Captured attractive relative yields while also strengthening the portfolio's overall stability with these low-risk assets.
- Global Equities: Through broadmarket trackers and targeted U.S. sector plays \cap (technology, consumer discretionary), we tapped into upside potential in bettervalued markets.

2. Selective Domestic Repositioning:

- Fixed Income: Pivoted out of restructured DDEP securities into higherquality, higheryielding local bonds to lock in income.
- Equities: Realized gains in peakvalued local stocks and rebalanced into sectors with \cap resilient fundamentals.

Q2: What were some of the key moves made in the portfolio in 2024?

A: A major milestone for the Fund was our first-ever allocation to external markets. We initiated this by investing in U.S. Treasuries to capture attractive yields while enhancing portfolio stability. Additionally, we introduced broad market equity tracking positions to participate in global equity gains and made targeted allocations to sectors such as technology and consumer discretionary—areas we expect to benefit from robust U.S. economic fundamentals.

Domestically, we continued our repositioning by pivoting out of restructured Government of Ghana DDEP securities into more stable, higher-yielding fixed income instruments. This combination of local and international repositioning diversified our sources of return and lowered overall portfolio volatility.

Q3: Were there any notable equity-related activities during the year?

A: Yes. We realized gains from select local currency equity holdings enabling us to book profits and rebalance exposure. Meanwhile, our hard currency equity positions were to U.S. sectors with strong fundamentals.

Q4: How would you describe the current investment environment?

The investment environment has become increasingly favorable. Inflation is on a downward trend, A: supported by a stronger Ghana cedi and easing food prices. These dynamics are expected to lead to lower interest rates, creating a more supportive backdrop for the equity market as investors seek competitive returns amid declining yields.

Q5: Can you comment on the Fund's exposure to hard currency assets?

A: Hard currency assets—in both equities and fixed income—remain a core part of our long-term strategy. While the recent appreciation of the cedi presented short-term impact on our valuation negatively, these assets provide valuable diversification and access to global opportunities.

Q6: How did the cedi's appreciation in the first half of 2025 affect the Fund, and how did you respond?

A: By end-June 2025, the Ghana cedi had appreciated by 42.6% against the U.S. dollar. This movement impacted the Fund's hard currency exposures, as their local currency value declined despite stable or positive performance in their base currencies.

While these exposures were intended to hedge against local volatility, the strength of the cedi temporarily offset that benefit, resulting in a decline in the price of the Fund. Nevertheless, the Fund's overall resilience was supported by strong performance in local equities and fixed income investments.

In response, we undertook tactical rebalancing—reducing select hard currency positions and increasing exposure to domestic opportunities that stand to benefit from a stronger cedi and moderating inflation. We continue to monitor currency developments closely and maintain a flexible asset allocation strategy to preserve and grow investor value.

Q7: What are your priorities for the rest of the year?

A: Our focus is on repositioning the Fund more defensively in response to the cedi's appreciation. We aim to anchor the portfolio in high-quality cedi-denominated assets, while continuing to actively manag our hard currency holdings for return enhancement. Dynamic asset allocation, robust risk management, and responsiveness to changing market signals will remain central to our approach.

Q8: Any final words to shareholders?

A: We sincerely thank our shareholders for their continued trust. Our commitment to disciplined management, strategic diversification, and active engagement with market dynamics remains unwavering. We look forward to continued partnership as we navigate the path toward long-term value creation.

The Directors are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF EDC GHANA BALANCED FUND PLC

In preparing the financial statements, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Directors are responsible for overseeing the Fund's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern;
- Evaluate the overall presentation structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We are required to communicate with the board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

REPORT ON OTHER LEGAL AND REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

The Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992) requires that in carrying out our audit work we consider and report on the following matters.

- We have obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of our audit.
- In our opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Fund as far as appears from our examination of those books; and
- The Fund's financial statements are in agreement with the accounting records and returns.

The Fund has generally complied with the provisions of the Securities Industry Act, 2016 (Act 929) as amended in Securities Industry (Amendment) Act, 2021 (Act 1062) and the Unit Trusts and Mutual Funds Regulations, 2001 (L.I. 1695).

NOTES to the Financial Statements

REPORTING ENTITY

EDC Ghana Balanced Fund Plc is authorized to operate as a mutual fund under the Securities Industry Act, 2016 (Act 929) as amended in Securities Industry (Amendment) Act, 2021 (Act 1062) and duly licensed by the Securities and Exchange Commission with Licensed No. SEC/CIS/MFL.08/24. The address of EDC Ghana Balanced Fund Plc can be found on page 6 of the annual report.

EDC Ghana Balanced Fund Plc is an open-end mutual fund that invests in equity securities listed on regulated exchanges and fixed income securities across organized markets.

The Investment activities of the fund are managed by EDC Investments Limited, and the Custodian services of the fund are delegated to Republic Bank Ghana Limited.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

2.1 Basis of Measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on historical cost basis except for financial instruments that are measured at fair values. The financial statements have been prepared and presented in Ghana Cedis (GHS) which is the reporting currency of the Fund rounded to the nearest Cedis.

The directors have carried out the necessary assessment and evaluation of the future capital and other financial requirements of the Fund and nothing has emerged through that evaluative exercise that can lead to the conclusion that the Fund is not a going concern.

2.2 Use of Estimate and Judgement

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS Accounting Standards requires the Manager to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. There are no areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Financial Statements of the Fund for the year ended 31st December 2024 incorporate the principal 26 accounting policies set out below, including changes introduced by the IFRS Accounting Standards. The policies have been applied consistently.

All the material information required by legislation, particularly the Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992) Securities Industry Act, 2016 (Act 929) as amended in Securities Industry (Amendment) Act, 2021 (Act 1062) and the Unit Trusts and Mutual Funds Regulations, 2001 (L.I.1695) have also been disclosed or presented in the appropriate context.

3.1 Income Recognition

Income is recognized and recorded in the Financial Statements on the accrual basis, and to the extent that it is probable that economic benefits will flow to the Fund and the related revenue can be reliably measured.

Interest Income

The effective interest method is used as basis to recognize interest income in the Statement of Comprehensive Income for all interest – bearing financial instruments.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset and allocating the interest income. The applicable effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts available over the expected life of the financial instrument or, when appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount of the related financial asset.

The effective interest rate is calculated within the context of all estimated cashflows, and due consideration to all contractual terms of the financial instrument including any early payment options but not future credit losses.

Dividend Income

Dividend income is recognized in profit or loss on the date on which the right to receive payment is established. For quoted equity securities, this is usually the ex-dividend date. For unquoted equity securities, this is usually the date that shareholders approve the payment of dividend.

3.2 Fees

Fees are mainly payable under legislation to the Regulator, Board of Directors, Fund Managers and the Custodians. Fees are recognised on an accrual basis. Fees and commission expenses are included in general and administrative expenses.

3.3 Financial Assets and Liabilities

Financial Assets and Liabilities are recognized in the balance sheet in accordance with measurement criteria explained below:

Financial Assets

Classification and Measurement

Financial Assets have been classified under the following categories: financial assets measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI) and fair value through Profit or loss (FVTPL). The classification of financial assets under IFRS 9 is generally based on the business model in which a financial asset is managed and its contractual cash flow characteristics. The Fund may however, at initial recognition, irrevocably designate a financial asset as measured at fair value through profit or loss if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency. Equity instruments are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless, for equity instruments not held for trading, an irrevocable option is taken to measure at fair value through other comprehensive income.

Financial Assets at Fair Value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

The Fund initially recognises financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through Profit or loss on the trade date, which is the date on which the Fund becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial Assets at Amortized Cost

The Fund recognizes financial assets at amortised cost if the following conditions are met: the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial Assets at fair value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVOCI)

The Fund recognizes assets as Financial Assets at fair value through Other Comprehensive Income if they are held in a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets.

Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are contractual obligations to either deliver cash or another financial asset to another accounting entity, or to exchange financial instrument with another entity on potentially unfavorable terms. These may be measured either at fair value through profit or loss, or at amortized cost depending on their sub-categorization.

Financial liabilities at fair value

These are liabilities which are measured at the current market value through the profit or loss subsequent to their initial recognition.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost

Liabilities which are not measured at current market value fall under this category. These are essentially non-trading liabilities which are not quoted in any active market and are therefore measured at amortized cost.

Determination of Fair Value

IFRS 13 defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, excluding transaction cost other than that relating to transportation. In practical terms issues usually considered in such a determination would include highest and best use, physical possibility, legal permissiveness and financial feasibility.

Quoted market prices, inter – bank interest rates as well as regulatory discount rates are examples of the practical measurement standards applicable to EDC Ghana Balanced Fund Plc.

3.4 Impairment of Financial Asset

A financial asset or a group of financial assets is considered impaired only if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more event(s) that have occurred after initial recognition of the asset and the event or events have adverse impact on the estimated future cash flow of such financial asset, or group of financial assets.

The amount of impairment is measured as the difference between the carrying value of the financial asset or group of financial assets and the estimated future cash flows discounted at the original effective interest rate used to originate the financial asset or group of financial assets in guestion.

Evidence of impairment may include indications that the issuers of Corporate Bonds and Notes as well as Certificates of Deposits in the Fund's Investments Portfolio are experiencing significant financial difficulty, default or delinquencies in the payment of interest and /or principal. It may also include the fact that those debts maybe restructured to reduce the burden on the issuers.

3.5 Impairment of Non-Financial Asset

Non-financial assets are assets that have indefinite useful life and are not subject to amortization and are tested annually for impairment. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the assets' carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the Assets Fair Value (Market Value) less cost to sell. It is the policy of the Fund to review all non – financial assets that suffer impairment for possible reversal of the impairment at least once within each financial year.

3.6 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalents identified in the Statement of Cash Flows comprise of deposits with other banks as well as highly liquid investments with up to three (3) months maturity from the date of acquisition by the Fund.

3.7 Provisions

A provision is recognized in the Statement of Financial Position when a legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past transaction or event exist at the reporting date and the amount of the obligation can be reliably estimated and also probable that an outflow of economic resource will be required to settle the obligation. If the effect is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability.

3.8 Capital Accounts and Distribution Earnings Accounts

a. Capital Account

Capital Account comprises Ghana Cedi amount arising from the issue of shares for cash and any transfers from retained earnings and other surpluses as defined under the Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992). These shares are redeemable by holders in the normal course of business subject only to the Fund's regulations and the scheme particulars. The process of redemption involves an exchange between the entity and the respective shareholders.

b. Distribution Earnings Accounts

This account records the cumulative annual profits (after appropriations) available for distribution to shareholders.

3.9 Post Balance Sheet Events

Events subsequent to the reporting date are reflected in the Financial Statements only to the extent that they relate to the year under consideration and the effect is material.

3.10. Financial Risk Management Objective and Policy

The Fund's objective in managing risk is the creation and protection of shareholder value. Risk is inherent in the Fund's activities, but it is managed through a process of ongoing identification, measurement, management and monitoring, subject to risk limits and other controls. The process of risk management is critical to the Fund's continuing profitability.

The Fund is exposed to market risk (which includes currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk arising from the financial instruments it holds. The Fund Manager is responsible for identifying and controlling risks. The Board of Directors supervises the Fund Manager and is ultimately responsible for the overall risk management of the Fund.

NEW STANDARDS, AMENDMENTS AND INTERPRETATIONS YET TO BE ADOPTED BY THE FUND

Certain new accounting standards and amendments to standards are effective for annual periods beginning after 1 January 2025 and earlier application is permitted; however, except as stated, the company has not adopted the new and amended standards in preparing these financial statements. The following new and amended standards are not expected to have a significant impact on the company's financial statements.

- IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements
- IFRS 19 Subsidiaries without Public Accountability: Disclosures
- IFRS 7 and IFRS 9 Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments.
- IFRS 7 and IFRS 9 Contracts referencing Nature-dependent Electricity
