Significant Accounting Policies

These unaudited results have been compiled in line with the requirements of International Financial Reporting Standards, the accounting policies having been applied consistently when compared to the audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2022.

Review of the Performance of the Company

The Directors wish to present the following unaudited results for H1 2023 ending 30 June 2023.

Economic outlook

After increasing the benchmark policy rate by 150 bps in March, The Bank of Ghana maintained this rate at an elevated level of 29.5%pa post its meeting on May 22nd, 2023. The decision was made in anticipation of inflation continuing its downward trend given the likelihood of food price stability post the harvest season.

To reduce the implementation of further fiscal measures and support a faster decline in inflation towards its medium term target, BoG signed a memorandum of understanding with the Treasury on zero-financing to the budget.

May 2023 experienced a slight increase in the annual inflation rate to 42.2%pa from April 2023's figure of 41.2%pa, significantly influenced by an increase in food inflation by 310bps.

Financial Performance

The balance sheet of Izwe Savings and Loans ("Izwe") contracted by 7% year-on-year with Net Loans and Advances to customers decreasing to GHS391m from GHS420m. This is attributed to a slowdown in new asset acquisition due to macro-economic headwinds restricting liquidity to the financial sector. However, with the improved economic outlook for the second half of the year, the balance sheet is expected to expand accordingly.

Our treasury operations continues to focus on liquidity management, with a notable successes in increasing deposits from clients. After redeeming a GHS25m senior secured bond maturity in March 2023, Izwe successfully issued GHS25m senior unsecured bonds in April 2023 under the approved GHS150m listed bond programme. Further investor demand for our bonds was strong, indicating a high level of investor confidence placed in Izwe as an issuer. Given the current high levels of liquidity, Izwe may issue a new tranche under the bond programme in H1 2024.

The company reported a 9%pa and 21%pa decline in net interest income and net operating income respectively as a result of the slowdown in Net loans and advances to customers and the impact of elevated interest rates. Izwe anticipates robust performance in the second half of 2023 as the macro-economic environment improves.

The year-on-year decline in the loan book has resulted in a reduction in the provision for bad debts and a corresponding release in the credit loss expense incurred. The overall provision methodology however remains prudent, with the provision balance considered adequate to cover the inherent credit risk.

Overhead cost declined by 7%pa to GHS26m (2022: GHS28m), which resulted from various cost optimisation initiatives and associated reduction in variable costs.

The entity maintained its levels of Capital Adequacy above the regulatory requirement with the impact of forecasted operational gains expected to further improve the ratio in the second half of the year. A net loss before tax of GHS1.1m was reported for H1 2023, with Izwe remaining confident of improved profitability in the full year results.

Business Outlook

With increased macro-economic stability and the reduction in business activity, the second half of 2023 is anticipated to produce normalised results. Izwe will continue to leverage on technological advancement introduced to the business as well as implement new customer-focus retail products.

Effective risk management remains key to our operations and Izwe stands resolute to ensure operational efficiency and effectiveness over the course of the second half of the year to achieve steady growth in all business units and indicators.

The financial statements do not contain any untrue statements, misleading facts or omit material facts to the best of our knowledge.

The Directors would like to thank all stakeholders for their continuous contribution in achieving these results.
