PART 3:

VALUATION OF PROPERTY, CHARGES, DISTRIBUTION & FEES

3.1 Determination of Net Asset Value

The Net Asset Value (NAV) per share will be computed by dividing the net value of the Fund's assets (the value of its assets less its liabilities) by the total number of shares outstanding at the time of valuation.

The following methods will be used in valuing the Fund's assets:

- Shares and other investments listed or quoted on a recognized or designated Stock Exchange shall be valued at the last traded price before the close of business on the relevant Stock Exchange.
- Fixed Income instruments shall be valued at cost plus accrued interest as at the date of valuation.
- All other investments shall be valued at market price using conventional valuation methodologies.
- Securities quoted in foreign currencies are converted to the local currency based on the prevailing exchange rates on that day. Fluctuations in the value of foreign currencies in relation to the Ghana Cedi (GHS) may affect the net asset value of the Fund even if there has not been any change in the foreign currency prices of the Fund's investments. Where quotations for foreign exchange traded securities are available and reliable, the securities will be valued at the market quotations; where such quotations are not readily reliable or the markets on which such securities trade close after the dealing deadline or significant issuer specific events occur after the close of the market, which in the opinion of the Manager may affect values of the securities, the Manager may use a fair basis to value such securities.

The Manager will continually assess the methods of valuation and recommend changes where necessary to ensure that the Fund's investments are valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the board of directors.

valued at their fair value as determined in good faith by the board of directors.

3.2 Dealing Deadline and Pricing Basis

Shares are priced on a forward basis. This means that the issue price for shares purchased is determined after the Dealing Deadline on each Dealing Day. The NAV is calculated by deducting the total liabilities (including all accrued liabilities) from the total assets (including interest earned but not yet received) by the total number of outstanding shares. The NAV is the basis for determining management fees. The Dealing Deadline is 4 pm on each Dealing Day (or such other time as may be agreed between the Manager and the Board).

For example, if you purchase shares before 4 pm on a Dealing Day, the price to pay will be based on the issue price of the shares of that Dealing Day.

If you purchase shares after 4 pm on a Dealing Day, the price you pay will be based on the issue price of the Shares of the next Dealing Day. The issue price of shares for any Dealing Day is always calculated on the next Dealing Day.

That is to say, upon receipt of your purchase request in good order your investment will be done at the next determined net asset value.

3.3 Managers Remuneration

The Manager shall receive from the Fund a fee for all general management, investment management, administration, advisory and supervisory services provided to the Fund. This fee shall not exceed 2.50% per annum of the Fund's average daily Net Assets Value.

The Board and the Manager by mutual agreement can authorize the Management fee to be calculated and paid at periods other than monthly intervals provided the interest of the shareholders is not jeopardized.

3.4 Custodian Remuneration

The custodian shall be entitled to a transaction charge of GH¢7.00 per transaction and a safekeeping fee of 24 basis points (0.24 percent) per annum. The fees are inclusive of communication charges relating to the conduct of normal business. However, any out of pocket expenses anticipated outside the above charges will be incurred only after obtaining clearance from the client.

The custodian's fee shall be payable from the assets of the scheme. In addition, the Fund shall reimburse the custodian for agreed upon out - of - pocket expenses incurred by the custodian in connection with the performance of its duties as custodian. However out - of - pocket expenses will be incurred only after obtaining clearance from the fund.

3.5 Director's Remuneration

3.6 Other Expenses

The Manager shall redeem all the investments of a shareholder in the Fund if as a result of the redemption the investor would remain an investor with less than GHS50. Cheques shall be issued for payment of shares and shall be drawn on an account lodged with the custodian. The payment of the redemption money for a properly documented request shall not exceed five (5) bank business working days from the date of receipt of redemption instruction, unless for any reason it is not possible to make payment of the redemption money within the time frame. Under such situation payment will be effected as soon as practicable when the difficulty is resolved.

If constraints prevail in the financial markets of countries in which investment of the fund are made to such extent that it affects redemption, the Board of Directors, with the approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission shall extend the period for the payment of redemption proceeds to a period not exceeding thirty (30) working days. Any further extension of the payment period shall be approved by the SEC.

The Board of Directors may require that redemption requests be made 24 hours prior to when investors wish to withdraw their interests in the Fund.

4.7 Redemption Charge

There shall be an exit load which shall take the following format:

3% in the first year;

2% in the second year;

1% in the third year;

There shall be no redemption charge after the 3rd year.

4.8 Suspension in Dealings

1. The Manager may, with the approval of the Board of Directors of the Fund, suspend dealings during

a. any period when the stock exchange on which any investments that form a part of assets of the scheme for the time being are listed, is closed or when dealings at that exchange are restricted or suspended;

b. the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which disposal of investments of the scheme would not be reasonably practicable or might seriously prejudice the interests of the investors as a whole and of the assets of the scheme;

c. any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the value of any investment of the scheme or the current price on any stock exchange or when, for any reason, the value of investments of the scheme cannot be promptly and accurately ascertained;

d. or any period when remittance of money which will or may be involved in the realization of the investment of the scheme or in the payment for investments cannot be carried out.

e. The Board of Directors of the Fund shall immediately notify the Commission of any suspension in dealings and shall provide the reasons for it.

f. A suspension in dealings may be permitted in exceptional circumstances having regard to the interests of investors and with the prior written consent of the Commission.

g. The suspension shall take effect immediately upon its declaration by the manager and dealings shall resume on the first dealing day after the day on which the condition that caused the suspension ceased.

h. A notice to the effect that dealings have been suspended or resumed shall be published immediately in the newspaper in which the scheme's prices are normally published and shall be published at least a month after the first publication during the period of suspension.

4.9 Publication of Share Price

1. The Manager shall publish or cause to be published the issue and redemption prices of interests in the scheme daily except that with the prior approval of the Commission, the frequency of the publication may be reduced if the reduction is not prejudicial to the interests of investors. The publication will be on the website of the Manager.

2. The prices published in consequence of (1), shall be those calculated at the last valuation point prior to the publication of the prices.

3. The last valuation point shall be the close of business day immediately preceding the day on which prices of the scheme are published.

4.10 Market for the Shares

The shares of the Fund will not be listed on any stock exchange. All dealings in the shares will be at the registered office of the Manager.

PART 5: RISK FACTORS AND SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS

The Fixed Income Alpha Plus is an open-ended mutual fund. The price of shares may fluctuate according to the performance of the underlying assets as well as market conditions. The material risk factors and risk management guidelines can be summarized as follows:

5.1 Market Risk

The changing of factors such as economic, financial or capital market conditions may affect the price of underlying securities resulting in the fluctuation of the investment's share price. The Fund Manager will guard against market risk by being absolutely thorough in conducting investment due diligence, and to diversify across fixed income asset classes.

5.2 Performance Risk

The Fund's performance may be influenced by the performance or business capability of companies invested in by the Fund. If such companies are facing financial problems or generating less income, the price of its securities as well as the value of investment units may decline. The Fixed Income Alpha Plus investment process will be applied to mitigate this risk. This process involves frequent and thorough analysis of factors that may affect market performance, assessment of the quality of each holding, and the application of traditional diversification principles.

5.3 Liquidity Risk

Securities or securities markets of some countries invested by the Fund may lack the liquidity, efficiency, regulatory and supervisory controls of relatively more developed markets. This may adversely affect the value or ease of disposal of assets resulting in the fund performance.

Liquidity is important in terms of the overall profile of the portfolio, and the Fund Manager will monitor this closely.

5.4 Country Risk

Political change may lead to the change in government policy e.g. debt repayment policy or exchange control policy etc. The Fund Manager will diversify the investment in many countries and avoid the concentration in a single country so as to reduce the impact from political changes in the country invested.

5.5 Exchange Rate Risk

Where investments of the Fund involved a foreign exchange transaction, it may be subject to the fluctuations of currency values. Exchange rates may also cause the value of the underlying overseas investment to go down or up which is likely to result in the fluctuation of return in Ghana cedi.

Investment in countries experiencing fluctuations or instability in currency may experience gains or losses from investment. The Fund Manager will actively manage currency exposures, preferring to assess currency risk as one of the factors within its view of individual companies.

5.6 Regulatory Risk

There tends to be a fairly strong correlation between government economic management and recognition (and enforcement) of legal and other rights. The Fund Manager would want to be sure that any company it invests in abides by the prevailing laws of the country it operates in, and, equally, that it would enjoy legal protection in the ordinary conduct of its business. The independence of the judiciary therefore becomes a consideration within the larger estimation of country risk. Where problems usually occur, they may be less at the level of private dispute and more of a consequence of government action. For example, government-affiliated companies may benefit from lack of truly independent regulation, preferential access to markets and dominant market power. In such instances, the private sector competitor may be penalised.

5.7 Investment in Securities (corporate bonds, treasury bills, fixed deposits etc.) Risk

The risk is to invest in poor quality companies or in overvalued instruments. The Fund Manager will manage this risk by a complete and thorough review of the Fund's holdings and avoid buying overpriced instruments. Diversification is also the main tool to control the price volatility of securities.

5.8 Political and Economic Risk

Political risk is endemic to the emerging market asset class, and can manifest itself in different ways - for example, through unstable governments, sudden shifts in macroeconomic policies, regulatory changes and so on. The Fund Manager will constantly sift the weight of evidence on these issues and will then take account of any developments it considers to be significant.

The Fund Manager will scrutinize factors such as forex policy (in the face of potential currency volatility), exposure to the cash economy - which may be 'insulated' to the extent it is dependent on weather, global commodity cycle, etc. - as well as soft factors, such as immunity to government 'interference'. Clearly where a country has a history of instability, this will be a factor in stock weightings and asset allocation

5.9 Accounting Practice Risk

In some African countries, the accounting and audit system may not accord with international standards or even report in line with international standard. Financial Reports may not always contain correct information. Obligations on companies to publish financial information may also be limited.

Accounting is one of the things the Fund Manager will examine most closely when evaluating companies at the 'Quality' stage of its filters. It is imperative that companies follow normal international practice or domestic ones that uphold a similar standard.

5.10 Shareholder Risk

National codes on shareholder rights vary dramatically. In some countries, say, there are detailed laws on the duties of companies and the rights of shareholders, including the exercising of votes. Sometimes these codes are mandatory, but often advisory. In many countries there are few protections, and companies are insulated from shareholders (especially foreigners) by differential voting rights. When Corporate actions may not be aligned for all shareholders, the Fund Manager will raise these concerns to management at appropriate forums such as annual general meeting, extraordinary general meeting etc.

5.13 Execution and Counterparty Risk

In some markets there may be no secure method of delivery against payment which would avoid exposure to counterparty risk. It may be necessary to make payment on a purchase or delivery on a sale before receipt of the securities or, as the case may be, sale proceeds. That apart, registration and settlement arrangements in some African markets may be less developed so the operational risks of investing are higher. The Fund Manager intends to choose brokers carefully to minimise counter-party failure.

5.14 Issuer Specific Risk

The Fund is a new fund that may encounter start-up difficulties that impact its operations. These may include disruptions to the computer systems that drive the business, staff adherence to internal policy relating to executing client order etc. An internal system of checks and balances shall be put in place to identify and resolve these issues as they occur.

5.15 Target Market Risk

The Fund has identified investors looking for steady long-term capital appreciation through investments in a regionally diversified portfolio as its primary target market.

There is the risk that members of the primary market may not have sufficient interest in the scheme to make it a success. The promoters of the Fund guarantee an initial minimum subscription of one hundred and twenty thousand Ghana Cedis (GHS120,000). In the event that after the closure of the Initial Public Offering the minimum subscription is not raised the promoter guarantees to purchase from the manager such amount to make up-for the short fall between the amount raised and the guaranteed minimum subscription. This sufficiently ensures that the Offer would be a success.

5.16 Taxation

Under the existing tax regime in Ghana, the interest, dividends, or any other income of a mutual fund is exempt from income tax. Capital gains on sale of securities listed on the Ghana Stock Exchange are exempt from tax. There is however an 8% withholding tax on dividends income from listed equities. However, since tax laws are subject to changes, the Manager is not in a position to guarantee investor's current or future after-tax incomes. In addition, tax laws will differ in other African markets where the Fund Manager intends to make investments and this may affect an investor's after-tax incomes. In situations where there are no governmental level tax treaties, double taxation of returns may also have a negative impact on the after-tax income of investors.

PART 6: GENERAL AND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

6.1 Publication of Reports

The annual and half-year accounts and reports will be published before the expiry of four months and two months respectively after the end of the accounting period for a full and half year. Annual and half-yearly accounts and reports will be mailed to shareholders at their registered addresses.

6.2 Inspection of Constitution and Reports of the Fund

Copies of the constitution of the scheme, any amending instrument to the constitution and the recent annual and half-yearly reports may be inspected and obtained from the Manager's Head office which is

6.3 Complaints Procedure

1. The Manager shall maintain a register into which shall be recorded every complaint received, the date on which the complaint was received, and the details of it.
2. The Manager shall investigate or cause the investigation of all complaints received in an expeditious manner.
3. If, for any reason, the complaint is not settled to the satisfaction of the complainant within three months after its receipt by the Manager, the manager shall give notice to the Commission of the details of the complaint, the action taken in response to it and inform the complainant that the Commission has been notified and provide the date of the notice.

4. After receipt of the notice, the Commission shall investigate the complaint and provide the complainant with such redress as is provided under the Law.

6.4 Guaranteed Minimum Initial Subscription

The promoters of the fund guarantee an initial minimum subscription of one hundred and twenty thousand Ghana Cedis (GHS120,000).

In the event that after the closure of the Initial Public Offering the minimum subscription is not raised the promoters guarantee to purchase from the manager to make up for the short fall between the amount raised and the guaranteed minimum subscription.

6.5 Regular Investment Plan

This is a purchase plan that allows an investor to make payments to the Manager on periodic basis to purchase shares in the Fund. The minimum value of subscription to the Regular Purchase Plan shall be a minimum of GHS10 and may be transferred automatically from a bank account on a periodic basis to the Manager for investment in the fund by the shareholder. The Fund may alter or terminate this arrangement at any time. Investors are to contact the Manager for further information about this service. The Regular Purchase Plan may also be done by cash payment to the Manager or the designated agents of the Manager.

6.6 Investment Account

The Manager shall maintain an Investment Account for every shareholder and send a statement on the account to the shareholder at least once a year. The statement will show activities in the account since the preceding statement, if any. Shareholders will receive separate confirmations for each purchase or sale transactions other than automatic investment purchases and the reinvestment of income dividends.

6.7 Benefits of investing in the Fund

Investment in shares of the Fund potentially offers several benefits. Many investors, particularly individuals, lack the information or capability to invest in a variety of high-income earning securities. This Fund could significantly address this by changing the characteristics of the investor's portfolio in terms of risk diversification, liquidity and high returns. The Fund offers investors the possibility of earning a steady flow of income from a strong portfolio of assets.

6.8 Material Contracts

The contract entered into by the Fund which is considered material for the purpose of this issue is the Custodian Agreement dated 29th January 2018 between the Fund and Guaranty Trust Bank Ghana Limited and the Fund Management Agreement dated 15th February 2018 between the Fund and Black Star Advisors.

6.9 Claims and Pending Litigations

There are no existing claims or pending litigations on the assets of the Fund.

6.10 Issue Costs

All the expenses related to the making of this offer for subscription, including fees payable to the regulatory authorities, shall be paid from the assets of the scheme.

6.11 Meetings, attendance and voting

2. The Board of Directors of the Fund shall at the request in writing of investors registered as holding not less than one-twentieth of the number of interests in issue or at the request of the Custodian made in writing, convene a meeting of the investors within thirty days of the date of request.

3. The Manager may attend any meeting of investors but the Manager is not entitled to vote or be counted for quorum in its capacity as the Manager.
